

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

Capt. Hugh Rodman, a Kentuckian, has been promoted to Rear Admiral.

Judge C. S. Nunn, of Marion, former judge of the Court of Appeals, is a candidate for the State Senate.

Senator Ugarte, a personal representative of Carranza, is coming on a mission to Washington.

Those who are conducting a campaign against waste, should not overlook road building.

Baron Rhond, England's food director, says his first duty will be to reduce the price of bread.

Vice Admiral Sims is in command of the allied navy this week in the absence of the British admiral. Sick and Sims.

For says the food gamblers have robbed the people of $250,000,000 in five months. We know where they got some of it.

Harry Sommers needs to read Senator Vest's tribute to the dog. Harry ought to have learned by this time that the more we see of men the better we ought to like dogs.

Judge R. W. Bingham's millionaire wife, formerly Mrs. Flagler, headed a Red Cross subscription in Louisville with $25,000. Fifteen others, three of them women, gave $5,000 each.

The plumbers have given the government a pledge of loyalty. While you are at it, boys, suppose you give the public a pledge that you will not try to get rich too suddenly.

Dave Kinchloe's eloquence is in growing demand all over the country. He tickled the ears of the people of Martinsburg, W. Va., the other day with some Kentucky eloquence at a Red Cross celebration.

Miss Honora May O'Brien, aged 28, who sued John B. Manning, aged 85, for breach of promise to the tune of a million dollars, got $225,000. It doesn't require a mind-reader to tell that Honora would rather have what she got than what she lost.

Dictator Hoover lectured to Washington women on how to save food and told them women might be asked to wear unstarched clothes to save the starch for food. Some of them were patriotic enough to agree to go even further and leave starch off their faces.

The young Russian Minister of War, Kerensky, seems to be the man the people were looking for. He is shutting down on the anti-war agitation with rigid orders, one being ten years imprisonment to peace talkers inside the army. The Duma is backing him and Russia will be loyal to the allies.

Germany is suffering from a terrible drought that is ruining the harvest. Around Berlin only 8 millimeters of rain has fallen since May 1. The Sunday sermon writer in the Berlin Kreuz Zeitung, who recently indulged in a most startling blending of religion and politics, declared on Sunday that the drought was sent as a punishment for the sins of the people for listening to the editors of irreligious newspapers, and asked how long it would be before this divine chastisement would bring the people to a sense of their iniquities.

Headlining is an art, but sometimes you cannot get a correct idea of an article in a newspaper by merely reading the headlines, although many busy men often do not dive deeper into the subject matter. For instance, down in Tennessee a girl whose lover was persona non grata with pater familias finally eluded parental vigilance by disguising herself in her father's pants, impersonating her brother and once outside successfully eloped with her sweetheart. The local editor in writing up the wedding headed the article,

Flee in Father's Pants.

CHAUTAUQUA HAS CLOSED

Strong Program Presented Tuesday Night With Music and Oratory.

DR. MCCONNELL'S LECTURE

Largest Attendance of The Week Heard Him Rasp The Kaiser.

The Lincoln Chautauqua closed Tuesday night with the best performance of the season. The American Opera Quartet gave the "Bohemian Girl" in tabloid form. The part of "Arlene," a Hungarian girl of noble birth adopted by a Gypsy band, was taken by Miss Lois Johnston. "Thaddeus," her Polish lover, was James Hamilton, white "Devil's Hoof" was enacted by Joel Mossberg and the "Gypsy Queen" was portrayed by Miss Mildred Smith.

The oratorio "I dream I dwell in Marble Halls," sung by Miss Johnston and the Gypsy Queen's lament, "Would that I had died e'er this," by Miss Smith, brought forth hearty applause from the large audience. The presentation was enacted after the best traditions of the stage and sung in faultless manner.

During the intermission an effort was made to secure pledges for season tickets for next year. After this, as a beginning of Dr. McConnell's lecture, Mr. James Hamilton, of the opera company, sang "Good-bye Germany," written by Dr. McConnell, in such a pleasing and enthusiastic manner that he was forced to sing all the verses, and then an encore. Dr. McConnell then gave his new and masterful lecture, "The Devil and The Kaiser."

In the outset, he said, that in choosing that subject he had no disrespect for Satan. The first part of the lecture was a biblical version of what Satan was—an angel created to adorn Heaven itself and cover the Throne of God, who was so powerful that he led a revolt in Heaven itself against God and as a result was cast into outer darkness. He brought one point which seemed perhaps strange to most of his hearers when he said that when Satan offered the kingdoms of the earth to Christ at the tempting of our Lord, Satan had the power to give them or else there would have been no virtue in the refusal of Christ.

The whole lecture of Dr. McConnell was a wonderful attack on the "Kaiser." He asked the question of how could we call a nation superior which has after twenty-five years of preparation, created a forty-two centimeter gun while England in two years has made guns which are "shooting the stuffing out of the Germans." He jumped with both feet upon the American born traitors who are not as good citizens as the people who "love their native land whether they were born here or not."

Dr. McConnell ended his lecture with a wonderful tribute to America and her splendid response to call of the government.

Dr. McConnell has three boys in the army—in the aviation corps. He said that he was glad that he lived in this age of transformation and that he was glad that he had three boys to give to his country.

What the country needs—this section especially, is more Dr. McConnell, who will make such speeches as he made and put such spirit and enthusiasm into the people as will cause them to rise in a body and sweep Germany off the map. Then it would truly be as the song said, "Good-bye Germany, so long Germany."

Choate Must Serve.

B. E. Choate, of Graves county, who used a knife on Henry Campbell, a neighbor whom he suspected of wrong relations with his wife, must serve a term of three years, says the court of appeals, in affirming the sentence of the lower court.

FOOD CROOKS TO BE HIT

No Honest Man Will Be Affected, Says Mr. Lever in Food Debate.

MUST BE ORGANIZATION

President Must Have Power Or the Kaiser Must Dominate.

Washington, June 20.—Debate on the government's food control bill began in both Houses of Congress Monday, with its passage by July 1 the goal towards which the administration leaders will strive.

This seemed by no means certain, however, except in the House, although President Wilson's personal influence had been brought to bear upon congressional leaders to secure its enactment by that time.

Opposition to the enactment is strong in both houses, particularly the Senate, and this may delay its progress through.

DEBATE OPENS.

To bring "food crooks out into the sunlight," but not to injure honest business, is the aim of the food control bill, chairman Lever, of the Agricultural Committee, declared Monday in opening debate on the measure in the House.

A wave of applause greeted his statement, adding strength to his prediction that the bill will pass the House by a large majority, perhaps by the end of the week.

"It is not intended that any honest business shall be hurt," declared Mr. Lever. "It is the crook that shall suffer in the sunlight, and it is the crook, unpatriotic, selfish and greedy, that we are after."

Opponents of the bill, under the leadership of Representative Haugan, Iowa; former Speaker Cannon, of Illinois; and Representative Moore, of Pennsylvania, were ready to lead an attack.

THE REAL CONTEST.

"The contest between German autocracy and American democracy," said Representative Lever, "will be determined in the end by the character and strength of the organization which one can put against the other. A loose joined, unorganized democracy has no ghost of a chance in a contest with such an autocracy as Germany. Organization is the only weapon with which organization can be overcome. An organization, as the term is used, means not only the whipping into shape the man power of the nation, the money power of the nation, but as well every resource of the nation, which may be used in the contest."

Anticipating attacks on giving the President extraordinary powers, Mr. Lever contended the situation warranted them.

PRESIDENT OR KAISER.

"We must either confer the so-called autocratic powers upon the constitutional head of our government or be prepared to have them assumed by the German Kaiser," he said. "No war was ever won by a debating society. The time is upon us for getting down to brass tacks. Every man, woman and child must be prepared to make sacrifices—great sacrifices—and no man is going to be permitted to stand behind fine-spun theories and technicalities in his opposition to this measure. This is no pink tea affair, nor is it a ladies' sewing club matter. It is a war against the most powerful autocracy the world ever saw. Germany took control of her food situation within five days after war had been declared.

"Hungry armies do not win victories, men who fight must be fed. Those who send their loved ones into the ranks likewise are to be fed. The supreme duty as well as the supreme necessity of the hour is to feed our fighting forces, the fighting forces of the allies, and absolutely provide nec-

FOLLOWING THE FLAG.

Churchill Blakey and Jim Winfree are due to come home soon from Fort Benjamin Harrison. The former is reported to have failed on the final physical examination and Winfree has been in the hospital for two weeks with a stomach trouble.

Chas. McKee dropped into a soft snap. Being an expert book-keeper, he has been put to work in the Quartermaster's department, where he has no time to either drill or study.

Joe Slaughter's exact fate is not known, but he has sent his civilian clothes home.

Tom Skinner, Oscar Wright, Robert Wright, Ellis Melton and Herschel Long are said to be passing all tests so far. The last named has been assigned to the field artillery.

Paul Gard, the young traveling salesman for the Whitaker Paper Co. of Cincinnati, was in town yesterday. His application is in for the officers' training corps, but a new opening has just come to him for service as a French interpreter and he expects to be called right away. This is probably his last trip.

IN BRIDE'S HONOR.

Mr. and Mrs. Bailey Waller delightfully entertained Monday night at their home on Fifteenth and Water streets in honor of their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Herndon Waller, of Paris, Ky. The veranda and the interior of the house were artistically decorated in white, pink and green. The guests were met at the door by Miss Sallie George Blakey and Mr. Walter Trice and Miss Annie Virginia Trice and Dr. Manning Brown. Mr. and Mrs. John Waller were in the hall. The receiving line in the beautifully decorated living room was composed of Mr. and Mrs. Bailey Waller, Mr. and Mrs. Herndon Waller, Miss Annie Waller and Mr. William Ware, Lieut. and Mrs. Alvan H. Clark, Miss Elizabeth Pendleton, of Pembroke, and Mr. Robert Waller, Mrs. John Berry, of Nashville, Tenn., Mrs. T. W. Long, of Lexington, and Mrs. John Graves, of Georgetown. In the rear room were Misses VanCleve and Annie Barker and Messrs. Thornton Harris and Mark Pendleton, of Pembroke, Miss Miss Lulu Moseley, Mrs. Pliny A. Steel, of Huntington, W. Va., and Miss Addie Green and Miss Mary Danforth were in the dining room, which was hung with sweet peas. Miss Grace Richards and Mr. William Thompson and Miss Rosalie Miller and Mr. Lewis, of Birmingham, Ala., had charge of the punch bowl on the porch and served the hundred or more callers of the evening.

W. M. DAVIE LAID TO REST

In The Family Burying Ground Near Howell, Sunday.

Winston M. Davie died at the Jennie Stuart Hospital Saturday. Mr. Davie was a prominent farmer of the Herndon vicinity. He was taken ill with typhoid fever in a severe form and perforations of his stomach resulted. He was taken to the hospital several days before, but his condition prevented an operation being performed.

Mr. Davie was a son of I. P. Davie, one of the most prominent men of his section of the county. He was born March 18, 1882, and was a man of fine education and brilliant intellect. He had practiced law for some time in Louisville, prior to his removal to this county. Mr. Davie was a devout member of the Liberty Christian Church. He is survived by his widow, two children, two step children, his mother and two sisters.

The funeral services were held at the home near Howell, Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The burial was in the family burying ground there.

CIRCUIT COURT LIVENS UP

L. G. Lucas Draws a Penitentiary Term on Wife's Testimony.

CITY WINS A SUIT

Several Damage Suits Disposed of By Judge Reed.

L. G. Lucas, who was acquitted of the murder of J. C. Caldwell, at the home of his wife from whom he was living apart, was tried Tuesday for the additional charge of shooting at his wife at the time the killing was done. This time he did not come off so well, but was given a sentence of three years in the penitentiary. Mrs. Lucas went on the stand and told her story this time, testifying strongly against her husband. She said he had abused and mistreated her, and that no conduct of hers justified him in killing Caldwell. Judge Reed sat in the case and overruled a motion for a new trial. An appeal will be taken.

Finis E. Luttrell, accused of wilful trespass, was tried and acquitted.

The suit of Richard Leavell vs. the L. & N. Railroad Co., in which suit was brought for $450 damages to live stock, was tried and judgment given for the plaintiff for $250 and costs.

The suit of Willis Mayes and wife against the city of Hopkinsville and Miss Frances Bachman was decided for the defendants.

The colored woman who sued, fell into a hole in an alley and was injured.

The case of John R. Green against the I. C. Railroad Co., was tried yesterday morning and went to the jury at 1 o'clock.

The important case of B. P. Cravens vs. Geo. H. Merrill, Jr., an alienation suit for damages, was taken up for a second trial. The first trial the jury gave a judgment of $6,000 against the defendant, but the Court of Appeals reversed the lower court. The work of making up the jury was under way yesterday afternoon.

BEAUTIFUL JUNE BRIDE

Miss Margaret Dalton Weds Mr. Emmett Haydon In Pretty Home Wedding.

The wedding of Miss Margaret Dylitz Dalton and Mr. Emmett Haydon took place yesterday morning at the home of the bride's parents, on East Seventh street. The entire lower floor of the commodious residence residence was beautifully decorated, a color scheme of white and green being carried out. Before the ceremony Mrs. Frank Mason sang, "Where Thou Art" and Miss Elizabeth Davis sang, "At Dawning," with Miss Mary Ellen Eshman at the piano. The bridal couple was preceded to the altar by Misses Sarah Dalton and Elizabeth Stites, flower girls, and Miss Ruth Haydon and Mr. Will Cate. The ceremony was said by Rev. Lewis Powell of the Methodist church. After the wedding, Mr. and Mrs. Haydon left for a week's camp.

The bride is the attractive and talented daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Dalton, and Mr. Haydon is a rising young business man, who is connected with the W. R. Wheeler wholesale grocery company.

In addition to her other numerous accomplishments, the bride is one of the city's most talented musicians. She excels as a vocalist and has a wonderfully sweet and well cultivated voice.

Candidate for Councilman.

Chas. W. Lindsay, a well known business man of Madisonville, is a candidate for councilman from the second ward, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

HUGE STRUGGLE IN WEST SOON

Renewal of Battle on Grand Scale May Already Have Started.

AUSTRIA CABINET CRISIS

The Italians Are Still Holding Their Own With the Austrians.

Indications point to an early resumption of operations on a grand scale in Belgium and France, if indeed they have not already begun in Flanders and Champagne. A significant statement in the latest Berlin official communication says that in Flanders and Champagne "the fighting activity has been revived at several points."

Aside from this there is no information as to the exact state of affairs. In Champagne the Germans have made an attempt to re-capture positions between Mont Blond and Mont Carnillet taken by the French Monday but they were met with repulse, suffering heavy casualties. To the northwest around Craonne, heavy artillery duels are being fought.

The situation in Flanders is even more obscure, while to the south in France, in the neighborhood of the Bapaume Cambrai road, the British troops have resumed their trench raiding operations, destroying German dugouts and taking prisoners.

TROOPS BEING POURED INTO THESSALY.

The Macedonian theater also promises early developments on a large scale. While along the line where General Sarraill's forces are facing the Teutonic allies near the Greco-Serb border the reports show only artillery duels to be in progress, the entente commander is still pouring men into Thessaly and occupying important locations. Another indication that the Greeks are turning toward the entente cause is shown by the fact that considerable quantities of arms and ammunition have been surrendered by the population of the invested towns and villages.

Again the Austrians have endeavored to dislodge the Italians from positions northeast of Udine in the Gorizia section of the Austro-Italian theater.

CABINET CRISIS IN AUSTRIA.

Advices from Denmark, Switzerland and Holland indicate a cabinet crisis in Austria by reason of the fact that the Poles in the Reichsrat, seeing the downfall of Premier Clam-Martinio and also the foreign minister Count Czernin, have refused to vote the Austrian budget. A Basel dispatch quoting Vienna advices which have not been confirmed, says the cabinet already has resigned.

MRS. CALHOUN

Laid to Rest in Riverside Cemetery, Tuesday.

Mrs. Roxie Calhoun died Monday night at the home of her son-in-law, J. D. Thompson, on South Campbell street. Her death was due to a complication of diseases and was not unexpected.

She was 63 years of age and a native of this city. She was a member of the Christian church and a lady of highest ideals and amiable personality. She was the widow of the late J. N. Calhoun.

Mrs. Calhoun is survived by two daughters, Mrs. J. D. Thompson of this city and Mrs. Buckner Shelton of the county, and one son, J. C. Calhoun, of Birmingham, Ala.

Funeral services were held at the residence Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock and interment took place at Riverside cemetery.

Only two billions of bonds will be issued now, but the excess may be applied to the next issue.

Commissioner Judson C. Clements, of the Interstate Commerce Commission, died in Washington Monday, aged 70 years. He had been on the Commission 24 years.

The full extent of the nation's response to the Liberty loan is still in the realm of conjecture, although indications are that the estimate of $2,800,000,000 will be substantially correct.

It is reported that evidence has been found that strikes in the Alaska copper properties of the Kennecott Copper Corporation were instigated by pro-German elements, supposedly as a stroke against the military resources of this country.

After surviving long service in the trenches in Belgium with the Canadian overseas forces, Paul Spitaels was killed at Duluth, Minn., by falling from a farm wagon. His neck was broken. Spitaels had been invalided home from Belgium.

National preparedness leaders and officials of the Aero Club of America are deeply stirred over the plan to strike a quick and vital blow at the central European empires by the rapid construction of 100,000 airplanes, and the subsequent attention given to it by the war department.

Gov. A. O. Stanley has transmitted to the provost marshal general at Washington a report showing 187,753 men registered in Kentucky under the select draft law. Of this number 165,531 were white men and 22,222 were negroes. No details were available as to the number of aliens and alien enemies in the state.

The desire to align Russia's international program with that of the allies as quickly as possible was expressed at Monday's session of the Pan-Russian congress of all councils of workmen's and soldiers' deputies by M. Tsereteli, minister of posts and telegraphs, who coupled this expression with sharp repudiation of the idea for a separate peace for Russia.

Waldemar von Nostitz, aged 63, for seven years editor of the Louisville Anzeiger, and now editing a German paper in Cleveland, has been put in jail on a charge of being an alien enemy. When questioned in Cleveland concerning the charge, Von Nostitz said: "I am a subject of the Kaiser.
I have refused to be a subject of the United States. My allegiance is with Germany and I have written many editorials expressing my approval of the sinking of the Lusitania." Nostitz according to his own confession is a spy and a traitor and should be dealt with accordingly.

Simultaneous construction of sixteen war army cantonments, each to house 40,000 troops, has proved such an enormous task that officials do not now believe it can be completed in time to permit mobilization of the first quota of 650,000 by September 1.
Whether any of the men selected under the draft will be called out until the government is ready to begin training of the entire first quota, has not been revealed. It is believed, however, that even if all the cantonments are not completed by the beginning of September, the date generally suggested for the mobilization, such units as can be accommodated may be summoned in advance of the others.

ON A STILL HUNT

By JOHN MONTGOMERY.

It was at the house of a mutual friend in the city that Miss Lena Rives and Mr. Arthur Graves were introduced.

Miss Rives was the daughter of the Widow Rives of the manor house, the Larches, down Long Island way, and Mr. Graves was employed in a bank in the city.

There was talk of this and that, and it finally turned on the country, and Mr. Graves expressed a wish that he might be out among the woods and meadows. He followed that by saying that it would be a delight to see the quail sailing round and round in graceful flights, and the chipmunks springing from tree to tree.

The Widow Rives had occupied the Larches for eight months a year for four years, and yet she could not tell a rabbit from a cat.

Miss Lena was a little more curious and enterprising than her mother. In time she learned that a quail was not a crow, and that a chipmunk was not a rabbit.

When young Mr. Graves spoke of the quails sailing round and round and the chipmunks springing from tree to tree he was met with:

"Oh, but you could never have lived in the country."

"And why not?" he asked.

"Because quails fly straight ahead and because chipmunks don't climb trees."

That closed the conversation on natural history, but neither one was quite satisfied.

Some weeks later, when Miss Lena went home, she drove over to see the Widow Rogers, who lived a mile away.
After the greetings the widow said:

"Wasn't it awful?"

"Why, what?"

"The robbery. Didn't your family tell you about it?"

"Not a word. Where was it?"

"Why, my adopted son Arthur, whom you have never met, went to the city and learned the banking business, and a few days ago he opened a bank at Chester with $20,000. I contributed half the money."

"And he failed?"

"No, dear. On the night of the opening day it was robbed of every dollar. It comes hard for me to lose my share, but Arthur is just heartbroken. He is without a dollar."

On reaching home after her call Miss Lena asked of the gardener's assistant:

"Boy, when quail are scared up how do they fly?"

"They go away with a buzz-z-z-z!"

"Do they fly high or low?"

"Not over ten feet high, and not very far. Let me show you."

Opposite the Larches was a field of wheat belonging to a farmer. The boy picked up a stone and walked across the road and gave it a fling. It fell among the wheat a hundred feet away, and instantly there arose a flock of a dozen quail which flew straight away and flew low.

Behind the house was a bit of woodland, and the girl was soon there and seated under a tree and watching out for the lively little chipmunks. As soon as the noise of her arrival had been succeeded by silence two chipmunks began chasing each other across the leaves, and they played for ten minutes before disappearing in a hollow log.

As she walked over to the log the chipmunks ran out, but she knelt down to have a look. The hollow in the log was stopped up with something and she put in her hand and pulled out a small leather satchel.

"This is funny!" she exclaimed.
"Well, I'll take it home and have it opened."

No key could be found to fit the satchel, and the lock had to be broken.
When it was held up and shaken, out tumbled four packages of greenbacks.

"Ten thousand dollars!" gasped Miss Lena, as she looked at the figures on the bands.

"Say, mother," said the daughter after a moment's thought, "the Chester bank was robbed of just this sum. I shall drive back to Mrs. Rogers with the money," said Miss Lena. "You know the bank was started by her adopted son and herself."

The pony cart was brought around and the drive was made. As the outfit drew up at the gate the widow and a young man came down from the house.
The son was the young Mr. Graves the girl had met in the city!

"Did you forget something when you left here?" asked Mrs. Rogers.

"Oh, no. I came back on an errand.
Mr. Graves, your bank at Chester was robbed a few weeks ago?"

"Yes," he almost groaned.

"Could you identify the money?"

"Yes, if the packages had not been broken."

"I think this belongs to you!" she quietly said as she handed over the satchel.

"Upon my soul!" he gasped as he saw the money. "But how—when—where—did you find it?"

"Mr. Graves, you and I had a dispute in New York some time ago about quails and chipmunks. I want you to call at the Larches and let me prove to you that quails fly low and straight ahead, and that chipmunks prefer hollow logs to standing trees."

And when she had practically demonstrated her assertion, he began calling every few days to beg her pardon, and it looks as if she would have to wed him before he can feel that he has been forgiven.

"A SPLENDID TONIC"

Says Hixson Lady Who, On Doctor's Advice, Took Cardui
And Is Now Well.

Hixson, Tenn.—"About 10 years ago I was..." says Mrs. J. B. Gadd, of this place. "I suffered with a pain in my left side, could not sleep at night with this pain, always in the left side..."

My doctor told me to use Cardui. I took one bottle, which helped me and after my baby came, I was stronger and better, but the pain was still there.

I at first let it go, but began to get weak and in a run-down condition,
so I decided to try some more Cardui, which I did.

This last Cardui which I took made me much better, in fact, cured me. It has been a number of years, still I have no return of this trouble.

I feel it was Cardui that cured me,
and I recommend it as a splendid female tonic."

Don't allow yourself to become weak and run-down from womanly troubles. Take Cardui. It should surely help you, as it has so many thousands of other women in the past 40 years. Headache, backache, sideache, nervousness, sleeplessness, tired-out feeling, are all signs of womanly trouble. Other women get relief by taking Cardui. Why not you? All druggists.

NEW WAR SONGS ARE NEEDED

Mobilization of National Music May Be Necessary to Meet Demands of Present Occasion.

The schedule of mobilized war resources of the country, unfortunately, overlooks one of the main essentials of success—the mobilization of poets. War at best is serious business, but a war without tuneful song fitted to the occasion is unthinkable, says the Omaha Bee. The war songs of other days well served their time. "Yankee Doodle" linked the spirit of '76 with the spirit of 1917. The Civil war brought out a multitude of marching songs, ranging from "John Brown's Body" and "We Are Coming, Father Abraham," in the North, to "Dixie" and "Maryland, My Maryland," in the South. The boys of '98 kept step to the stirring, ribald notes of "There'll Be a Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight." Each fitted the occasion which inspired them and have become cherished memories of the past. Reverence forbids reviving them in the present crisis.

Every war should have distinctive music for camp and march, gripping the inspiration of the hours and supplementing the uplifting notes of the national anthem. "Tipperary" is impossible. The London music hall ragtime has lost its accidental grip. The opportunity, therefore, is an appealing one. Mobilization of the national muse should be undertaken without delay and paths of fame and glory blazed for writers of triumphant song.

PNEUMONIA DUE TO CROWDING

Removal of Laborers From Great Barracks to Individual Shacks Solves Problem on Isthmus.

On the isthmus the canal laborers were so unconsiderate as to have pneumonia altogether too much to suit the desires of Doctor Gorgas. So he undertook to determine who was to blame. After a thorough investigation he concluded that the prevalence of pneumonia was not due to the following fancied causes—sleeping in sweaty, damp clothing, sleeping in drafty bunks, wet feet, getting chilled. On the contrary, he found that men who carefully avoided all these supposed causes of taking cold were just as susceptible to pneumonia as the poor fools who gave such things no consideration at all. Finally he made up his mind that crowding was the real cause.

The laborers were then spread out, over a larger territory, only a few in each individual shack, instead of large numbers in a great barracks. Whereupon the pneumonia suddenly ceased to be a problem of the sanitary administration.

GLACIERS FEED POWER PLANT.

A new hydroelectric power plant at Arnberg, Switzerland, ten miles from the upper end of Lake Lucerne, is to run with water from glacier-fed streams and springs with a head of nearly 3,000 feet. Two parallel pipes, each 6,850 feet long and 18 to 24 inches in inside diameter, lead from the reservoir far up in the mountains and at the power house are connected by a concrete-bedded cast steel double bend, which will receive an end thrust of about 500,000 pounds. Three of the turbines will be of 3,000 horse power each and one of 1,300.

THE AWAKENING OF PERU.

A considerable increase in industrial activity is noticed in Peru. On the whole the textile industries have been the most successful, since cotton and wool are produced locally in quantities sufficient to insure profitable results. The only other industries that have attained much importance include the manufacture of cottonseed oil, soap and cocaine. The cotton mills in Peru manufacture principally sail-cloth, filter-press cloth, towels and some other heavy goods. The total number of looms in operation is 1,015, and the annual production is about 15,000,000 yards. The development of this industry will create a fairly good opening for cotton-mill machinery. The woollen industry is also expected to expand.

Use of Mechanical Milkers.

The time saved by the use of the mechanical milker increases with the increase in the size of the herd. Thus with herds of 15 cows or less the average time required to milk a cow by hand is a fraction over seven minutes; by machine a fraction under five minutes. With herds of more than 50 cows it takes slightly under seven minutes to milk a cow by hand and but 4:15 by machine.

TIN WILL BE SMELTED HERE

Bolivian Ore to Be Sent to New York by Way of Canal Instead of to England.

The use of Bolivia tin in this country has always involved a long transportation of the ore around the Horn to Liverpool, or sometimes to Cornwall, from which places, after reduction, the metal has been shipped across the ocean again, mostly to New York, for American distribution.

But the opening of the Panama canal has so shortened the journey from Mollendo, Peru, and from Arica and Antofagasta, Chile—the chief ports used by landlocked Bolivia in her dealings with the outer world—that they are now less than half as far from New York than from the British smelters. Accordingly the best economy seems to demand that we bring the Bolivian ore directly here and do our own smelting; and this we are now about to do, says the Scientific American.

The largest European firm of tin smelters has just purchased a tract of some nine acres of land on the northern shore of Jamaica bay, the great basin which some day is to play such a heavy role in New York's commercial development. Plans for a tin smelter on this site, which will be the largest and most modern of its kind in the world, are in preparation, and within a year this will be in actual operation. When completed and in full swing, it will have an annual output of 20,000 tons of tin.

One cannot claim that Americans of English origin are alone the depositaries of this belief, this passion. . . . He would immediately call back the name of his own piece, specifying on which of the sixty-four squares it was to be placed, and won every game. In Chicago, in 1900, Pillsbury played sixteen simultaneous games blindfolded in four hours and fifty-five minutes, winning twelve, drawing three and losing one.

KY. UNION MINERS PLAN TO WIN 2600

40 Locals of Hopkins, Webster, Union and Crittenden
Met Tuesday

Madisonville, Ky., June 18.—Representatives of forty unions of the United Mine Workers of America, situated at various mines in Hopkins, Webster, Union and Christian counties known as the "non-union coal field," will meet here at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning for the purpose of outlining future policies and deciding how best to bring about unionization of the entire field.

Action taken at the meeting may mean a strike of all workers in the so-called non-union field, according to well informed members of the international organization.

Of the 12,000 miners in the district, 9,400 are already organized. It is said that every effort will be made to have the remaining 2,600 men made members of the union. Union men in this district are said to have demanded the meeting, which was called by President W. D. Duncan, of Central City, president of district No. 23, United Mine Workers of America. The latter is expected to preside at the meeting.

Robert Pollock, an organizer of the international association, was in Madisonville and said he was making every effort to avoid the calling of a strike. He said that approximately 1,000 men employed in mines in the non-union field have been discharged recently when it became known to their employers that they had joined the union.

NO HOLD UP

Government to Fix Its Own
Prices For Supplies.

Secretary Daniels has ordered coal and oil producers to supply the enormous quantities needed by the navy at prices to be fixed later by the President when the Federal Trade Commission has determined a fair rate.

The navy will use 1,750,000 tons of coal and 20,000,000 barrels of oil purchased under this application of the authority granted by Congress.

Similarly, steel for the entire navy building program is being bought at a rate fixed when Secretary Daniels rejected the proposals of the steel makers as too high.

Secretary Daniels said to-day that the coal operators proposed to furnish navy coal at a rate of $2.95 at the mine. The navy has been paying $2.38 a ton delivered. The secretary directed the companies to ship immediately; the orders being prorated among the producers, agreeing to pay a tentative price of $2.33 at the mines pending a report from the Federal Trade Commission. If the commission determines a higher rate is justified because of increased cost of production, the department will equalize payments at the rate fixed. If $2.33 is too high, however, payments on future shipments will be curtailed to bring the entire purchase at the commission's rate. The $2.33 rate is being advanced by the government "on account" at present.

Oil quotations submitted, Mr. Daniels said, ranged from $1.58 to $1.86 a barrel, delivered at Port Arthur, although the present rate is 89 cents a barrel at that point. The department directed the producers to fill its orders for 50,000,000 barrels, leaving the question of price to be determined by the Trade Commission.

The arrangement regarding steel orders, the Secretary said, leaves a "handsome profit" for the producers.

GREAT MEETING OF TOBACCO MEN

On Thursday, Friday and Saturday, June 28, 29 and 30, a great meeting of tobacco men will be held at Old Point Comfort, with headquarters at the famous old Chamberlin. The Tobacco Association of the United States will hold its fifteenth annual meeting at that time, and on account of a number of things that confront the tobacco trade a large attendance is expected. In fact, we are assured by officers of the association that men will be there from all parts of the United States, and perhaps some from across the waters. The Tobacco Association of the United States is one of the most important business organizations in this country and numbers among its members prominent men in the trade in all parts of the United States, as well as bankers, transportation men, manufacturers of tobacco supplies, machinery, etc.

"In union there is strength," quite as applicable in the tobacco industry as in political alliances. "All for one and one for all," should be the actuating motto of all tobacco men in these days of stress. The combined wisdom of all men interested is needed to look after the welfare of the tobacco trade, and there's no better way of co-operating than by attending the tobacco association meeting at Old Point the last three days of this month. Besides the business value of the conference, the social get-together of tobacco men from different sections of the country is of inestimable benefit to each man in broadening his outlook and sympathies. The money its cost is neither an extravagance nor a speculation—it's the safest kind of a business investment.

Mr. Adams, of the Chamberlin, will give special rates during the three days, and there will be something doing all the time. The convention comes at a season when tobacco men are more or less at leisure, and at a fine season of the year for a holiday; and at the same time tobacco men and others identified with the trade can meet each other and "talk it over."

Mr. T. M. Carrington, of Richmond, Va., is President of the Association. W. L. Petty, Lexington, Ky., First Vice-President. R. P. Watson, Wilson, N. C., Second Vice-President. B. P. Eggleston, Drakes Branch, Va., Third Vice-President. G. E. Webb, Winston-Salem, N. C., Secretary and Treasurer.

The following tobaccoists (in addition to the officers) constitute the Board of Governors of the Association:

J. S. Miller, Henderson N. C.; G. O. Tuck, Louisville, Ky.; H. E. Spillman, Huntington, W. Va.; E. B. Ficklen, Greenville, N. C.; E. J. O'Brien, Louisville, Ky.; E. V. Webb, Kings-ton, N. C.; W. G. IMPROVING VIRGINIA STREET

It is with the greatest pleasure that all who ride, either in cars or otherwise, see the work of repairing Virginia street progressing. For a long time this street has been one of the most used streets in the city and it has recently been the roughest. It has been rolled and repaired many times, but it seemed as though this did no good, for in a few weeks it was the same old bumping thoroughfare again. When the new street is finished, the people of South Virginia will have a street as beautiful as any in the city and we hope as lasting.

The old brick pavements which for so long have been as bad as the street, are also vanishing. The city said build concrete and concrete it is. Already all the brick pavements between 21st and Alumnae ave. have been torn up and concrete put down.

SONG THE BOYS IN KHAKI ARE SINGING

The following song among soldiers on the Mexican border is the most popular song in army camps. The words were sent to Frank Marynell, Jr., by his brother Gen. W. Marynell, who is a member of the regulars now in service near El Paso, Texas.

Goodbye, Little Girl, Goodbye.

The sound of the bugle is calling
Fare thee well, fare thee well;
The soldiers in line are a-falling,
Fare thee well, fare thee well;

There's a rose in your hair, sweet maiden,
And its fragrance rare floats on the air.

But the rose from your cheeks is fading,
Hark! I can hear the trumpet's blare.

From afar comes the sound of a battle,
Bugles call, soldiers fall.

On the ground 'mid the roar and the rattle Lies a boy, soldier, soldier.

"There's a rose on my breast, my comrade,"
I could hear him say 'mid the battle fray.

"If they spare you to see my darling
Will you take it back to her and say:
CHORUS.

"Good-bye, little girl, good-bye,
Good-bye, little girl, good-bye.
Just let me wear the rose so fair,
For I'm marching away to be a soldier.

Don't cry, little girl, don't cry.
By and by, little girl, by and by,
When our victories are through I'll come marching back to you.
Good-bye, little girl, good-bye."

GERMANY'S GREAT TOTAL

May Adds 22,000 Dead, 26,562 Prisoners and 62,394 Wounded to List.

London, June 20.—The German casualties as reported in the German official casualty lists in the month of May follows:

Killed and died of wounds or sickness, 22,000; prisoners and missing, 26,562; wounded, 62,394. Total, 110,956.

These casualties added to those previously reported give the following totals since the beginning of the war: Killed and died of wounds and sickness, 1,068,127.

Prisoners and missing, 557,410. Wounded, 2,731,223. Total, 4,356,760.

What Will the Harvest Be?

Our people have put forth their best efforts and the prediction is that the United States will produce larger crops this year than ever before in its history.

You know, we know and everybody else knows, or believes, that food stuffs will be higher this winter than ever before.

What Can We Do?

Purchase cans, a canner and some fruit jars and lay this crop away while the laying's good.

We Are Prepared

to furnish cans, jars and canners at BELOW THE MARKET prices. It is true that we have a big supply on hand, but when this supply is exhausted it will, we dare say, be impossible to get any more of them.

Heed This Warning!

Buy your cans and jars and buy them now. What ever you do don't purchase before consulting us and getting our prices.

Bear in Mind.

Tuberculosis germs cannot live long in sunshine or find much field for development in a well nourished body kept scrupulously clean. This coupled with plenty of pure air, rest and cheerfulness have worked wonders, often in the cure and always in the relief of the disease. The gratifying results that have followed the study of consumption by eminent physicians and the suggested treatment have brought hope to many a victim who has almost despaired. A request of Dr. W. L. Heizer, Secretary of the State Tuberculosis Commission at Frankfort will bring a pamphlet giving this prescribed treatment to any one interested.

A reduction of more than 25 per cent. in the death rate from tuberculosis in the ten years that the scientific treatment has been followed, whose value has been proved by experience, indicates that in time man's most insatiable enemy may be destroyed or rendered practically harmless. The treatment provides for very little medicine and that must be taken only on the prescription of a physician; pure air, plenty of sunlight, no dissipation, nourishing food, cleanliness and rest. A pamphlet giving full instructions will be sent on application to Dr. W. L. Heizer, Secretary of the State Tuberculosis Commission, Frankfort.

A New Discovery.

The discovery of an explosive said to be 10,000 times as powerful as dynamite is announced by Dr. Walteoff, Vice President of the American Medico-Pharmaceutical League. The doctor and his son, a Brooklyn chemist, found the substance while experimenting with a substitute for gasoline. The discoverer claims a bomb of the compound dropped from an airplane would wreck a large sized city.

Miss Cleveland to Marry.

New York, June 18.—The engagement of Miss Marion Cleveland, the youngest daughter of Grover Cleveland, to William Stanley Dell, of this city, was announced at Princeton, N.
J., Saturday by Mrs. Thomas J. Preston, Jr., who was the wife of the late President.

Miss Cleveland has been a student here at the teachers' college, Columbia University, for two years. Mr.
Dell was graduated from Princeton in 1916 and is connected with the editorial staff of the New York Evening Sun.

There were 6,000 deaths from infantile paralysis in 1916, most of them in New York.

GROGERS USE SCREENS.

Hopkinsville now has strictly sanitary groceries. When one walks down town nowadays he sees all manner of vegetables, but these are no longer the abode of swarms of flies. They are screened and kept clean and attractive. The city officials are to be praised for enforcing the ordinance which for so long had been ignored. Needless to say the new conditions of affairs will bring more trade to the grocers.

Vote to Strike.

Madisonville, June 19.—A strike of the miners employed in the non-union mines of Hopkins, Union, Wester, Christian and Henderson counties will be called July 3 unless the operators grant the demands asked for by United Mine Workers of America.
This action was decided on at a convention of miners from these counties. Fifty delegates were present.
The resolution calling for the strike was unanimously adopted.

FOOD CROOKS TO BE HIT

essaries at living prices for our own people, and as largely as we can the civilian population of our allies.

"Without an agency of control which would stimulate production, eliminate waste and conserve the food supply this country cannot furnish the bulk of food to the allies."

HOOVER BEFORE SENATE.

Food speculators have been taking $50,000,000 a month for the last five months—a total of a quarter of a billion dollars—from the American people, Herbert C. Hoover Tuesday told Senators in explaining the purpose of the Food Control Bill.

Disclaiming entirely that the bill sets up a food dictatorship, Mr. Hoover told Senators its purposes were entirely to organize the resources of the country and the people themselves in a food administration to limit mid-dlemen's commissions and prevent extortion.

"With righteous manufacturers' and distributors' prices," he said,
"the price of flour should not have been over $9 a barrel. Yet it averages $14. In the last five months $250,000,000 has been extracted from the American consumer in excess of normal profits of manufacturers and distributors."

TRADE NOT OPPOSED TO BILL.

Not a single national trade association, Hoover told the Senators, is opposed to the Food Control bill. The prospective food administrator went to the Capitol early today to explain the bill informally to Senators in the hope that a full understanding of its objects and purposes may allay some of the opposition.

Chairman Gore, of the Agriculture Committee, and Senator Reed, of Missouri, leading the opposition to the bill, took a leading part in questioning Mr. Hoover.

"The resort to these powers is only on account of the war?" asked Senator Gore.

"To provide not only more food for the Allies, but for ourselves," Mr.
Hoover replied. "Even if we had not gotten into the war, we would have been up against this tremendous demand from Europe and probably driven to some legislation to protect our own people."

Mr. Hoover expressly disclaimed authorship, personal interest or responsibility for the bill's provisions extending to fuels.

"I'm concerned only with the provisions relating to food," he insisted.
PROVIDES COMMANDEERING.

The provisions for commandeering factories, mines and other plants, he added, would not be necessary in administering food questions.

Senator Reed asked who was responsible for the clause relating to fuel, and Senator Sheppard of Texas, suggested that President Wilson desired that authority.

"It is not fair to the President, to say that," Senator Gore interjected.
"I may say that I had several talks him on the bill and he expressed great surprise at some of the things that are in it."

Senator Reed referred to a section which he contended would permit the Government to take from orbits and bins grain stored there in excess of the amount actually needed by the farmer and asked Mr. Hoover's opinion regarding the enforcement.

WOULD NOT SEIZE GRAIN.

"As far as I am concerned, I would not attempt to execute it as far as the present situation appears," replied
Mr. Hoover.

"Then you don't intend to take grain from the farmer's bin?" said Senator Gore.

"No," replied Mr. Hoover. He added he did not intend to enforce the section authorizing the Government to take charge of patents and formulas.

WHERE CORNBREAD PERSISTS

Used by Thousands of Well-to-Do People in South in Cities and Towns as Well as in Country.

In response to Champ Clark's advice that there should be a greater use of corn as food, the epicure of the New York Sun makes this sage observation concerning cornbread:

"It was well thought of in this country as human food, 50, 40, perhaps 30 years ago. But in an unfortunate day even poor folks began to neglect corn. Dressed up as hominy it still had a certain popularity; parents were willing that their children should eat it thus. Treated with baking powder, salt, plenty of rich cream and butter, it was still made into a hot bread some were not ashamed to eat."

This serves chiefly in this part of the country to show how little the South and Southerners are computed as a part of the country, and how little they know in New York and other supposed enlightened centers of what constitutes good eating, says the Nashville (Tenn.) Banner.

It is assuredly not necessary to use the past tense when corn as human food is spoken of in the South. Cornbread is used preferably by thousands of well-to-do people of the South, in the cities and towns, as well as in the rural districts.

Boh Taylor used to say one essential difference between the South and North is "hot biscuit and cold light-bread." The negro cooks in the South made hot bread for each meal practically, while the thrifty housewives of the North had "baking days," when enough bread was baked for a week. That was where the difference mainly lay.

BRIER HOTTER IN TROPICS

English Physician's Experiments Show Why Change in Climate Affects Pipe Smokers So Greatly.

It has long been known that pipe smokers in the tropics have to abandon the brier. They usually wonder why the change of climate should work such a great change in the amount of satisfaction to be derived from a pipe. This has been answered by an English physician, Dr. Gilbert Brooks, who recently conducted a series of experiments in Singapore. These are his conclusions:

Moist tobacco gives hotter smoke than dry tobacco.

Fine tobacco gives markedly hotter smoke than coarse-cut tobacco.

Smoke from brier is considerably hotter in the tropics than in cold climates, especially with fine-cut tobacco.

Smoke from brier is always hotter than brenth temperature, although with a coarse tobacco on a cold winter's day the difference in temperature would hardly be noticeable.

Variations in air temperature or in the type of tobacco used have comparatively little effect on the temperature of calabash smoke—the latter always being cooler than the temperature of the breath.

Calabash smoke is 14 to 24 degrees cooler than brier.

A coarse-cut tobacco, dry and smoked in a calabash would seem to be the acme of cool-pipe smoking.—Philadelphia Record.

Willing to Take His Word.

An Irish contractor who had taken on a new job was addressing the gang of men he had employed.

"Look here, boys," he said. "This job has got to be carried through quickly. There has got to be no slacking. I am under a penalty of five hundred dollars if I don't get the work finished in a month. And look here! I can lick any man in this gang, and if I have any trouble, you've got to look out!"

"What did you say?" said a big Irishman, who had evidently had a glass too much. "Did you say that you could lick any man in this gang? If you did, it's a lie! You can't lick me! You come down here and try!"

The contractor answered, "If I can't lick you, you had better go and get your money, because I don't mean to have any man on this 'ere job that I can't lick!"—London Tit-Bits.

Seven a Mystic Number.

In the Old Testament seven possessed mystic significance. For seven days seven priests with seven trumpets invested Jericho, and on the seventh day encompassed it seven times. Elisha sent Naaman to wash in the Jordan seven times. Ten times seven Israelites went to Egypt, and the exile lasted seven years. According to very ancient teachings, the soul of man and his body are composed of seven properties, which were under the influence of seven planets. Fire gave the sense of feeling. Water gave the sense of speech. Air gave the sense of taste. Mist gave the sense of sight. Flowers gave the sense of hearing. South wind gave the sense of smelling. Clouds gave the sense of movement.

Life in Sicily Odd Mixture.

The cities of Sicily deserve to be seen and described, each for itself. Palermo with its beautiful harbor, Taormina with its ruins and fountains, little Giardini, each of them is shrouded in history, radiant with the soft beauty of ripe age. But the country life of Sicily is a thing apart from all these. Here in the home of one of the oldest civilizations there flourishes today a primitive life, that is a mixture of old culture and a rudeness and simplicity still older. Sicily seems at once to touch the luxurious days of Rome at her height and the simplicity of the time of Romulus and Remus.

A WORD WITH WOMEN

Valuable Advice for Hopkinsville Readers.

Many a woman endures with noble patience the daily misery of backache, pains about the hips, blue, nervous spells and dizziness, hopeless of relief because she doesn't know what is the matter.

It is not true that every pain in the back or hips is trouble "peculiar to the sex." Often when the kidneys get congested and inflamed, such aches and pains follow.

Then help the weakened kidneys. Don't expect them to get well alone.

Doan's Kidney Pills have won the praise of thousands of women. They are endorsed at home—Read this Hopkinsville woman's convincing statement:

Mrs. H. F. Baker, 210 W. Seventeenth St., Hopkinsville, says: "My kidneys acted irregularly and I suffered from inflammation of the bladder. I felt weak and dull and my back was sore and lame. I read of Doan's Kidney Pills and bought some of Cook's Drug Store. They relieved all symptoms of kidney and bladder trouble and I felt much improved."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Baker had. Foster-Milburn Co. props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Waste No Food

Food Waste of About 700 Million Dollars.

"For partial immediate relief, every individual and community should consider earnestly the matter of food conservation and the limitation of waste. As a Nation we seem to have a disdain of economizing. In many homes there is a strong feeling that it is 'only decent' to provide more than will be eaten and that it is demeaning to reckon closely. The experts of the Department of Agriculture report to me that the dietary studies made by them point to an annual food waste of about $700,000,000. Of course, the waste in families of very limited means is slight, but in the families of moderate and ample means the waste is considerable. Even if the estimate were reduced by half, the waste would still be enormous.

"The food waste in the household, the experts assert, results in large measure from bad preparation and bad cooking, from improper care and handling, and, in well-to-do families, from serving an undue number of courses and an over-abundant supply and failing to save and utilize the food not consumed. As an instance of improper handling, it is discovered that in the preparation of potatoes 20 per cent of the edible portion in many cases is discarded."—SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE, March 3, 1917.

Food is Wasted

(a) When we eat more food than our bodies need for growth and repair and to supply energy for our work. Overeating tends to poor health and fat instead of brawn, makes us sluggish and indolent instead of energetic and resourceful. Eat enough and no more. Eat for physical and mental efficiency.

(b) When food is burned or spoiled in cooking. Improperly prepared or poorly seasoned food will be left on the table and probably wasted. Buy food wisely and then prepare it carefully.

(c) When too much food is prepared for a meal. Unserved portions are apt to be thrown into the garbage pail or allowed to spoil. Many housekeepers do not know how to use left-over foods to make appetizing dishes.

(d) When too much food is served at a meal. Uneaten portions are left on the plate and later thrown into the garbage pail. Learn to know the needs of your family, and serve each no more than you think he will want.

(e) When anything edible is allowed to go to the garbage pail or allowed to spoil for lack of proper handling.

(f) When food is handled carelessly. Buy clean food, keep it clean until used, be neat in all details of cooking and serving. This lessens waste and is a valuable health measure as well.

Feed Your Own Family First

Don't feed high-priced human food to hogs or chickens.

Don't send valuable food to the incinerator or the fertilizer heap.

Don't pour into the sewer nourishing food in the shape of milk, skim milk, sweet or sour soup, gravy, or melted fat, or water in which cereals or vegetables have been cooked.

Keep good food out of your garbage pail and kitchen sink.

CHESTNUT CAME FROM TIBET

Other Valuable Nuts, Fruits and Grasses, It Is Known, Originated in Far East.

In carrying out a mission to which he was assigned several years ago by the department of agriculture of the United States, Frank Meyer reopened forgotten pages written centuries ago by Marco Polo and looked upon scenes which, in many instances, have been unmarked by passing time. It wasn't play with him, nor adventure. The results of his explorations into these far, forgotten corners will make for the prosperity of vast sections of the American continent.

He learned, for instance, that to China, Tibet and Mongolia will come the task of resupplying the western world with fruits, nuts and grasses, which in days before their history was written were originally contributed by those same lands.

Quite contrary to general belief, many of the most valuable fruits, nuts and grasses used in Europe and America owe their origin to these lands of ancient settlement. The English walnut first blossomed in the interior of China, and the chestnut, so plentifully produced in the Atlantic states, made its first appearance from the lower plains of Tibet. Peaches and persimmons were first known and appreciated in Mongolia, China and Tibet, but through their common use for hundreds of years their origin has been lost and their discovery credited to lands better known.

Eliminates Coal Smoke.

A Cincinnati man has found that a mixture of water and clay on coal will prevent smoke. When clayey water is thrown on small pieces of coal it forms a thin layer of clay around each piece. This helps keep in the coal gases until the clay is thoroughly heated. When the coal gases come out they are readily consumed—thus burning up the smoke. The briquettes thus burn more slowly and more uniformly than plain coal.

Too Great a Risk.

THE THRICE-A-WEEK EDITION OF THE NEW YORK WORLD IN 1917

Practically a Daily at the Price of a Weekly. No other Newspaper in the world gives so much at so low a price.

The value and need of a newspaper in the household was never greater than at the present time. The great war in Europe is now half way into its third year, and, whether peace be at hand or yet be far off, it and the events to follow it are sure to be of absorbing interest for many a month to come.

These are world-shaking affairs, in which the United States, willing or unwilling, is compelled to take a part. No intelligent person can ignore such issues.

THE THRICE-A-WEEK WORLD'S regular subscription price is $1.00 per year, and this pays for 156 papers. We offer this unequalled newspaper and the together for one year for $2.65. The regular subscription price of the two papers is $3.00.

HOPKINSVILLE KENTUCKIAN (Tri-weekly.)

Manila Hemp True Banana Plant.
Manila hemp, from which the best rope is made, is known in the Philippines as abaca. It is a true banana plant and in appearance closely resembles the banana grown in California. The species is Musa textilis.

Folly of Self-Importance.

It is sheer folly for any worker to be carried away with the idea of self-importance. Good men and great men die and their places are filled by others who seem to do quite as well. It is true that all employers dread changes unless forced to make them—they dread the period of probation when taking on new workers. So good workers are reasonably safe and the employers who appreciate them are reasonably sure of a continuance of satisfaction.—Exchange.

Cancer Versus Consumption.

Over 40,000 people in England and Wales die each year from cancer, the death toll of that disease being greater than that of consumption.

This Way In.

Paid admission fees to the 20,000 film theaters throughout the United States in 1914 are said to have been $319,000,000.—New York Telegram.

LEISURE OF AMERICAN WOMAN

There is No Such Thing, in Spite of Observations of Indian Philosopher on Subject.

Rabindranath Tagore, criticizing our civilization and reproaching us for commercialism and other faults, remarked upon the leisure American women enjoy, seeing in it opportunities for that quietude of mind and soul which he believes the ideal existence. The Bengali poet-philosopher complained that he had passed too much time in hotel bedrooms during his visit to obtain a real perspective of American life. His remark as to woman's leisure proves it, remarks the Detroit Free Press.

As a fact, she knows no such thing. Her cry is for more time; she finds it impossible to live on 24 hours a day. She is swamped with engagements and is eternally in a hurry to get somewhere that she may proceed somewhere else. She complains of not having time for half the things she ought to do, means to do, wants to do. Her excuse for all omissions is "I am so busy!" The words are on her lips times without number; she lives in an atmosphere of haste and, worst of all, she passes the atmosphere and the slogan, "So busy," on to the children. It seems almost pitiful to hear from childhood, to whom the days should be long and unhurried, the plea: "I am so busy!"

ROUGHAGE AS PART OF DIET

Physician Says Its Proper Use Is More Important to Child Than Multiplication Table.

Roughage should form a part of every meal and the quantity should be sufficient to accomplish its purpose; naturally some people require more than others. Its use should begin in child life and continue to the end of old age, observes Dr. A. R. Reynolds in the American Magazine.

These elemental facts should be drilled into the mind of every child until they are understood. It is a more important item of education than the multiplication table and one that is wholly neglected. Substantially, no one grows to maturity with any actual knowledge of the functions of the intestines or how they should be treated. The rule herein laid down, to eat roughage and plenty of it, will do the work, and just as surely as the sun will rise in the morning it will improve the complexion, improve the health, overcome a universal physical fault that is the basic cause of bad complexion, as well as of other and innumerable ills.

We must get back to first principles and eat food as nature intended we should eat it. Then we can throw physic to the dogs and the desert of the human complexion will blossom as the rose.

MATHEMATICS AND WAR.

General Joffre, had he not chosen the army as a profession, might have been a professor of mathematics, and the new French war minister, M. Painleve, is one of the most brilliant of contemporary mathematicians. As a boy, indeed, he was a mathematical prodigy, and before he entered politics he had written several books on advanced mathematical problems. Mathematical calculation and applied science will probably prove the most important factors in ending the world war, and the allies have now a galaxy of scientific brains in their service.

QUEER.

"Queer isn't it?"
"What?"
"You plant the eyes of potatoes, and the ears of corn."

AN EARLY RISER.

First Father—Children are the sunshine of our lives.
Second Father—Quite true; and sunrise for me is about 3 a. m.

THE WISE FOOL.

"A man should begin at the bottom," observed the sage.
"But suppose he is learning to swim?" asked the fool.

PATIENT.

"Is he patient?"
"Very. He taught his wife to drive their automobile without once losing his temper."

TAKES A BACK SEAT THEN.

"They say he is an authority on the subject."
"He is until he talks to his wife."

Rubber Producing Plants.

Of all rubber producing plants, only guayule grows wild within our borders. In the Big Bend territory in Texas a large district, only second in size to the Chihuahuan field in Mexico, is available. Why not extend this field over the arid lands of New Mexico, Arizona and Nevada? Waste land would be utilized, and a valuable product secured. Guayule is not new to the American rubber man, unfortunately it is almost ancient history to him. It is safe to say that there are scattered over this country at least fifty desiccating plants, intended primarily for the treatment of this rubber. At one time they furnished about one-fifth of the entire rubber used in this country. The total production of the Mexican guayule fields was about 10,000 tons of the washed and dried, but not desiccated, rubber a year, from 1905 to 1910. In 1911 it began to fall off, and the recorded production for 1912 is 3,500 tons. About 80 per cent of this production was exported to the United States. Since 1912 guayule has been comparatively unimportant.—Metallurgical and Chemical Engineering.

For health and happiness let Dr. King's New Life Pills do for you what they have done for thousands. 25c.—Advertisement.

Floating Islands.

Many floating islands have at various periods been found voyaging on the Atlantic. These islands were originally part of the lowlying river banks, which broke away under stress of storm or flood and floated out to sea. The Orinoco, the Amazon, La Plata and other tropical rivers often send forth such pieces of their shores. Some of the bits of land are of large size and carry animals, insects and vegetation, at times including trees, the roots of which serve to hold the land intact, while their branches and leaves serve as sails for the wind. Generally the waves break up these islands shortly after they put to sea, but sometimes, under favorable conditions, they travel long distances.

The First Eraser.

India rubber was used for the first time as an eraser in 1770, when a very small piece was sold for three marks. It was, however, many years later before it was put into general use. Prior to this the crumb of bread was used for erasing purposes.

Being Truthful.

Being truthful does not necessitate telling all one knows. There are truths that do not belong to the general public, and which even a smaller circle is much the better off for not knowing. Being a peacemaker often resolves itself into holding one's peace.

Unique Among Magazines

Probably Joe Mitchell Chapple knows personally more famous people than any other man in the world.

OTHER magazines have their place in the world, but the National Magazine is different. Every month for twenty years it has made a trip to Washington to obtain material for his "Affairs at Washington" department. You can hear him 12 times a year through the pages of "The National Magazine" and enjoy the many timely, interesting talks and special articles on the big men and affairs of the day. The National follows no rut. It is the only magazine of its kind. It takes you over wide stretches of territory. It sets you down suddenly face to face with a big fact, it keeps you to human impulses. People usually like it. It "boots" you at every angle. It is not a palliative, but a blood and iron tonic to every person. It is a youth stimulant. No matter where you live, the National will do you good. Write today for a copy and Send No Money. Until you have read the magazine, you will not know you like it. For $1.00, every four months, you can become a regular subscriber to the National Magazine. NATIONAL MAGAZINE, Boston, Mass. Publishers "Heart Throbs" and "Heart Range."

MAYOR STOWE

Becomes The Official Fly-Catcher of Hopkinsville.

Mayor Stowe, Commissioner of Public Health, has installed fly traps on the sidewalks throughout the business section of the city and a multitude of flies have been caught. The trap used is the Curry Champion Fly Trap and resembles a chicken coop made of screening. The fly is attracted by a pan of some substance used to draw flies under the trap. They then fly up and pass through a slit in the bottom like the inverted roof of a house. They get in but can't get out. Other cities might do as Hopkinsville has done.

GEN. CROWDER TELLS WHO

Reiterates That Only "Indispensable Men" Will Be Excused From War

To dispel the widespread impression that all men in agricultural pursuits are exempt from selective draft, Provost Marshal General Crowder reiterated that only "indispensable men" in any industry will be exempt.

Every man that can serve the nation better as a soldier than in an industry in which he happens to be will be called to the colors, unless it works an actual hardship upon his dependents.

The others—indispensables—will be exempted. In a proclamation of exemption regulations, to be issued within a few days by President Wilson provisions are made for determining who are, and who are not, the "indispensable men."

Such is the task confronting the appellate exemption boards to be created for each federal judicial district—34 in all.

President Wilson's proclamation will furnish general rules for the guidance of the appellate boards, but the power to exempt or refuse exemption is left largely to their discretion.

DEATH IN NORTH CHRISTIAN.

Wm. C. Wiggins, an old citizen of North Christian, died yesterday at the home of his son, Will Wiggins, 5 miles west of Crofton, aged 80 years. He had been in poor health for several years, and last winter got a fall from which he was badly crippled; he never recovered. He was an esteemed citizen, an honorable gentleman, and had lived all his life near where he died. He leaves a family. Mr. Geo. Wiggins, of this city, is his son.

CHILD STRUCK

By an Automobile and Painfully Hurt Yesterday.

"Bud" Folsom, the little four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Folsom, was struck by an automobile driven by Dan Claggett at the corner of Main and 13th streets yesterday morning between 10 and 11 o'clock. The child was accompanied by a nurse, who said the child suddenly broke from her and ran upon the crossing and was struck and knocked some distance on to the sidewalk. He was picked up and taken into Mr. George Kolb's residence and found not more seriously injured than several bruises on his face and body.
